Core Assets Diamond Drilling Continues to Intersect Carbonate Replacement and Skarn Sulphide Mineralization at the Grizzly Target

- Diamond drilling at the Grizzly Target has intersected the most visually impressive occurrences of Zn-Ag-Pb-Cu bearing massive-to-semi massive sulphide carbonate replacement mineralization to-date – measuring up to 2m thick and to depths of >320m (Figures 1-3).
- All massive and semi-massive sulphide intercepts are believed to be continuous and interconnected at depth tracing back to the porphyry source (potentially intersected in hole SLM22-006; ). See News Dated Aug 12-2022...
